XipLink Earns Branham 300 Award One of Top 250 ICT Companies in Canada

March 12, 2015 – Montréal, QC – Today XipLink, the technology leader in wireless link optimization, announced the company has won a distinguished award as one of the top 250 Canadian companies in the Information, Communications and Technology (ICT) sector. The rankings are based on proven revenues over a sustained period of time with emphasis on results for the year ending 2014. XipLink's fiscal year ended in April 2014, thus the Branham 300 award includes some results from 2013 and 2014.

"XipLink spun off from our former parent company in July 2007 and since that point our revenues have grown 1,100% while tripling employment count. We are honored to receive the Branham 300 recognition for the dedication of our employees and graciousness of our expanding customer base" said Jack Waters, XipLink CEO. "While XipLink was a very early stage company in 2007 we have matured to become a recognized leader in TCP Acceleration and Optimization over stressed wireless networks".
